STUDENT VOICE · NOVEMBER 2026

Student-run updates on the Sun Prairie Area School District. Not an official district publication.

THREE THINGS TO KNOW

Weighted grades reached the School Board. Students were scheduled to lead the November 9 presentation. The goal is a vote on November 23, but the district says that is not guaranteed. If approved, it starts with students entering 9th grade in fall 2027.

A district-wide student council is forming. After meeting Superintendent Dr. Reed on November 4, invitations went to every middle and high school. One middle school has joined and another school said it supports the idea. It is not formally approved yet.

District newsletters are coming to students. The Director of Strategic Communications agreed in October to send district newsletters to students, starting this month.

Want to be a Board student rep? Reps serve two-year terms. Recruiting starts in December, and applications open in mid-January for current sophomores.

WHAT THE DISTRICT SAID

"We actually do already have a space on our meetings each month for the student board representatives to provide us any updates they would like to share."

Diana McFarland, Board President, Nov 7, 2026

"I think this is a wonderful idea! Creating opportunities for students to connect across buildings while developing their leadership skills is a great way to build relationships and strengthen our school community."

Shawn Bartelt, middle school principal, Nov 5, 2026
